

Access to Electricity in Rural Africa and The Gender Gap in Education

- (100%) Mauritius
- (100%) Tunisia
- (100%) Egypt
- (100%) Morocco
- 100% Seychelles
06. Algeria
07. Libya
08. Cabo Verde
09. Comoros
10. South Africa
11. Ghana
12. Eswatini
13. Gabon
14. Equatorial Guinea
15. Sao Tome and Principe
16. Nigeriat
17. Kenya
18. Eritrea
19. Senegal
20. Cote d'Ivoire
21. Botswana
22. Namibia
23. Ethiopia
24. Republic of the Congo
25. Sudan
26. Cameroon
27. Togo
28. Uganda
29. Benin
30. Rwanda
31. Madagascar
32. Tanzania
33. Angola
34. Lesotho
35. Zimbabwe
36. Gambia
37. Somalia
38. Guinea
39. South Sudan
40. Mozambique
41. Niger
42. Guinea-Bissau
43. Malawi
44. Zambia
45. Sierra Leone
46. Mauritania
47. Chad
48. Djibouti
49. Mali
50. Burundi
51. Liberia
52. Burkina Faso
53. Democratic Republic of the Congo
54. Central African Republic

The Effect of Rural Electrification on Women’s Education Gap in Africa

Women in Algeria spend X amount of hours on domestic labour including cooking however, will only go to school for an average of Y years while there expected average is Z years. Increased access to electricity could reduce their time spent on domestic labour and increase their average years of education to A years.

MALE

FEMALE

- 01. Mauritius (100%)
- 02. Tunisia (100%)
- 03. Egypt (100%)
- 04. Morocco (100%)
- 05. Seychelles (100%)
- 06. Algeria (98.9%)
- 07. Libya (96.4%)
- 08. Cabo Verde (91.8%)
- 09. Comoros (72.2%)
- 10. South Africa
- 11. Ghana
- 12. Eswatini
- 13. Gabon
- 14. Equatorial Guinea
- 15. Sao Tome and Principe
- 16. Nigeriat
- 17. Kenya
- 18. Eritrea
- 19. Senegal
- 20. Cote d'Ivoire
- 21. Botswana
- 22. Namibia
- 23. Ethiopia
- 24. Republic of the Congo
- 25. Sudan
- 26. Cameroon
- 27. Togo
- 28. Uganda
- 29. Benin
- 30. Rwanda
- 31. Madagascar
- 32. Tanzania
- 33. Angola
- 34. Lesotho
- 35. Zimbabwe
- 36. Gambia
- 37. Somalia
- 38. Guinea
- 39. South Sudan
- 40. Mozambique
- 41. Niger
- 42. Guinea-Bissau
- 43. Malawi
- 44. Zambia
- 45. Sierra Leone
- 46. Mauritania
- 47. Chad
- 48. Djibouti
- 49. Mali
- 50. Burundi
- 51. Liberia
- 52. Burkina Faso
- 53. Democratic Republic of the Congo
- 54. Central African Republic

15

10

5

0

5

10

15

15